

European Academy of Andrology

EAA School in Genetics

September 11-13th, 2019
Tartu, Estonia

The course aims to revise the basic concepts of medical genetics, provide the state-of-the-art overview of currently applied genetic tools in the andrology clinic and introduce the advances in androgenetics.

Organizers: European Academy of Andrology (EAA) Centre Tartu
Prof. Maris Laan (Institute of Biomedicine and Translational Medicine, University of Tartu)
Dr. Margus Punab (Andrology Centre, Tartu University Hospital)

Faculty: Prof Csilla Krausz (Florence, Italy)
Prof Frank Tüttelmann (Münster, Germany)
Prof Joris Veltman (Newcastle, UK)
Prof Maris Laan, Dr Margus Punab, Dr. Pille Hallast, Dr Lili Milani (Tartu, Estonia)

Who should apply: andrologists; researchers in reproductive biomedicine; other attendees interested in male reproductive genetics

Venue: Conference Centre of University of Tartu Library (<https://utlib.ut.ee/en/conference-centre>)

Number of participants: 30 (priority to EAA junior members!)

Fee: Registration for the full course (incl lunch, coffee break and course dinner)

In-training students EAA trainees	100€
EAA members	200€
Others	250€

Language: English

Number of EAA credits: 2

DEADLINE for application: 10.07.2019

Full course programme and registration information are available at the EAA website (<http://www.andrologyacademy.net/education>).

Contact: Ms Mailis Sütt, Course manager; mailis.sutt@kliinikum.ee, Phone: +372 7319 323